

LITTLE SILVER, N. J. P. O. ROBBER DROWNED OUT AFTER A FIGHT

arrived, making the sixteen miles from Freehold in twenty minutes.

Automobiles had assembled from all over the country and two powerful searchlights were playing their rays up against the building. The State Constabulary turned loose its artillery and fired a shell through the crowd. The force of the water, after a two-hour play, loosened the foundation of the cellar and that corner of the building caved in, leaving a big hole leading into the cellar.

Pretty soon there were five feet of water in the cellar and the robber soon came crawling out looking like a drowned rat, and Sgt. Van Note pounced upon him like a cat while great cheers went up from the crowd. All the fight was taken out of the robber and he submitted to being handcuffed without a struggle. A fully loaded .45 army automatic was found in the cellar.

Ayres gave his age as forty. He was taken to Red Bank where the police said that he had been out of Trenton prison three weeks and that he was an old-timer, having served previous sentences for forgery and robberies. He went to Little Silver to recruit himself for further enterprises, and the Post Office, used to being robbed, offered a fitting field for his job. Later to-day Ayres was held without bail on charges of assault and battery with intent to kill, on Detective Rue, forcible entry into the Kemp store and carrying concealed weapons. He was sent to the County Jail at Freehold, where it was said that the Federal authorities would seek an indictment against him for robbing the mails. Altogether it looks as if James Ayres, the drowned-out Post Office robber, will spend the rest of his life in prison.

But oh! how proudly erect to-day are the residents of Little Silver, N. J. And the firemen of that town and Shrewsbury are the proudest of them all. They checked their crime wave with water.

Out to achieve volume. We said so frankly. Said that we believed the time was ripe for volume. Volume forced by the biggest building boom in history.

Told you how these new homes in the building must have furniture. Good furniture. The only kind that will do. The only kind that Gimbel Brothers sell.

Went on record as believing that the store best fortified with good furniture at right prices would attain for itself the dominating position in the New York Furniture World.

Told you how we bought—Volume. Bought with Philadelphia and Milwaukee (component parts of the greatest retail organization in America). Buying at prices inevitably and decisively lower than can be secured by any other store.

Marked that great volume of Furniture at a percentage barely large enough to cover maintenance of overhead and cost of selling. Marked

And the sale is producing—VOLUME. Just as we anticipated. And just as we planned. Volume greater than our greatest imaginings. Volume unparalleled and unequalled. Volume that just such a sale was bound to produce. When there's volume of VALUE—like this.
